ROCHELLE LEAN

JUNE 12, 1984.

Dear Bob,

I am really glad we became Friends this year. You are a great guy and always stay that way. We had some funny times in Mr Pasciuti's office, I wish we could have gotten together earlier in the year but maybe we'll see each other over the summer. I wish you the very best in the future and always you deserve the best. Keep in touch - 636-2768

Love,
Diane.

BOBBY,

HOW CAN I EVEN BEGIN TO DISCUSS A FRIENDSHIP I HAVE HAD OVER THE COURSE OF MY ENTIRE LIFE IN HALF A PAGE? THERE IS NO WAY WE'LL EVER LOSE TOUCH (AFTER ALL, OUR MOTHERS ARE ON THE PHONE EVERY MORNING!) SO THIS DOESN'T NEED TO BE A FINAL SUMMATION. JUST SOME POINT SOMEWHERE IN THE MIDDLE. JUST THINK OF WHAT WE'VE BEEN THROUGH! ^{WITH} HOW MANY PEOPLE HAVE YOU SHARED THINGS FROM BABYSITTERS TO PHILOSOPHY? AND DAY CAMP. AND MARRIAGE. YES, YOU WERE MY FIRST BOYFRIEND, WEREN'T YOU? HAVE A REALLY FANTASTIC TIME - AND I HOPE I'LL CONTINUE TO BE YOUR FRIEND ALWAYS.

WITH LOVE,

Dear Bob,
We did it!
from Ward school
night though NRS.
(3rd period was the easiest) we've had a great time to move on but now its time at Ithaca and have a touch. I wish you the best keep it all you do.
of let in all you do.
I shall Had you won't be spending the rest of your life at the G&P!) Love, Yika

6/13/84

Dear Bob,
Good luck in school and in everything you do!
Also HAVE a totally amazing summer which I know you will! Be good and Take care youya,

Elen
Taracido

Dear Bob -
How have ya been?
I never see you anymore - we had some great days in chem. & all those baseball practices watching your cute tushes strut all over the place!
I adore ya & will miss ya a lot next year. Good luck in school & don't forget I've got ya in the movies!
Keep in touch when ya come home 'cause ya still live around the corner!

Love ya,
Aimee

Dear Bob,
We've had some really great times over the past few years. There was baseball and of course chemistry.
Stay cool and good luck in the future
Jerry Gatto

Dear Bob,
I have known you for almost my whole life.
We've had some good times over the years. I remember when we were good friends many years ago. Good luck and Take Care.

Mary Moross

Dear Bob,

We've had a lot of fun. You're a great guy. I'm glad I got to know you. % bad things didn't work out with you and Karen. But it's good that you're friends. You made me feel good during baseball season. You made me feel like I belonged and I was needed. I'll miss you next season. The team won't ~~be~~ as good without you. Take care. Be happy and keep smiling. Come back & see a couple of games.

Love
Always

Stephanie Hancock

To Bob,
I'm glad we became friends in Off's class last year. You've got to be the best artist I've ever seen.
Keep the good baseball playing going and I hope you are happy and successful in life. Good luck.
Your friend,
Anthony

SENIOR LIFE I

A color photograph of a young Black man in profile, facing right. He has short, dark hair and is wearing a light blue turtleneck sweater with a red collar visible underneath. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

There are alot of memories that will last for ever. What ever you end up doing, you should try and strive for something.
I don't know what for, but I think its the thing to do, we'll have to hunt
the racoon some othertime.

 Bruce Ward (bottom right): "Is this food for real?"

Dear Bob,
 well it is finally overall the way from Ward School -we made It. I'm glad we've remained friends all these years. Have a great time at school-and good luck
 always!
 I'll miss
 ya!
 Love ya always

Dear Bobby -
I have had so much fun with you this year! And just think - I now have such good gum because I throw gum across Hubscher's class. I'm glad we've become so friendly the last few months. You're a great guy (even though you always get me in trouble!) I hope I see you this summer. Or when Rachel has people over, STOP BY! Let's definitely keep in touch next year.

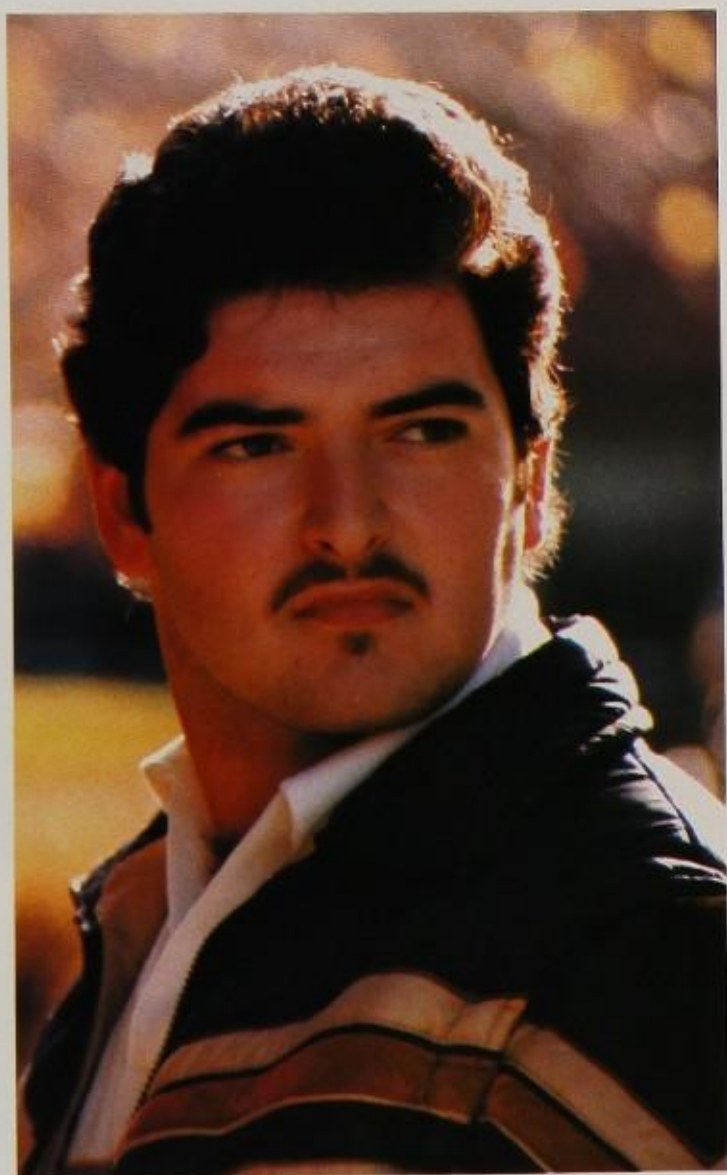

Love,
Jill.

P.S. - Keep your hands off BB guns! (HIA HIA)

The Slump

All seniors remember the summer before their big year, the summer between being a junior and being a senior. And all of us remember the first day of school as a senior, dressed to impress, dressed for the hallmark senior activity, the SLUMP. Granted, some of us have been slumping since elementary school, but to many, the slump was as foreign as the writings of Thomas Hardy. Despite our ignorance, we prepared - we bought shabby clothes, we recorded our favorite beach music, we took our road tests, we polished our fenders. As the first marking period progressed, prospective slumpers were in for a shock - senior slump was crushed beneath three volumes of Hardy, a ream of college applications, a pile of SAT and ACT and ACH study books, and a history textbook. The teachers explained that we were being prepared for the rigors of life in the university and the real world - what that meant was that we didn't get much sleep.

As springtime rolled around, and the smoke from the midnight oil cleared, the slump reared its beautiful head! Yes! No more SAT's, not more applications, no more snow! Just a few final exams, but what's a test in the face of such freedom! Being a senior finally paid off! Of course, the slump may have differed from our expectations, but it was a slump, in its charming sense, and that was the point. As veterans, though, we should keep just one thing in mind-don't tell the sophomores and juniors . . . let them discover the slump for themselves.

-Steven Werblow

The Real World

So now high school is behind us and we're excited about facing the challenges and rewards of the REAL WORLD. Unfortunately I'm not entirely sure that the REAL WORLD is much fun at all. In fact, entrance into adult life is probably something to be avoided at all cost. The REAL WORLD, which many people are actually looking forward to, offers few rewards except aggravation, demoralization and tension. For the real "go getters" (meaning dollar-grabbing, penny-pinching, immoral scoundrels), there is the happy prospect of obtaining their first black Mercedes before they discover their first peptic ulcer. But for the rest of us, we can look forward to meaningless jobs making other people rich and ourselves tired. There is little excitement in plunging oneself into the bland world of corporate bureaucracy. The only solution is to stay in school as long as possible. Now school is no nirvana but I maintain that more intriguing things happen at NRHS in one day than happen in the Citicorp building in a year. When the student loans run out, I'll become a ski bum in Wyoming.

Problems Demand Attention

In the past years, the world, this country, and even our own home town have faced significant changes and problems. The major superpowers are poised on the edge of a precipice, closer to war than they have been since the Cold War thirty years ago. In the past years, the United States has been ransomed by terrorists and criticized by its own allies. To pull out of a mid-life crisis, the U.S. has begun to show a facade of strength, flexing its muscles around the world. On the home front, statistics show that one-fifth of us may have been affected by high unemployment rates and, in general, an ailing economy. Ironically, the reactionism that has grown in response to these chronic problems now chooses to ignore them. Money is still being spent lavishly on machines of Armageddon at the expense of finding jobs for the unemployed and feeding, clothing, and housing the large number of poor in the U.S. Luckily, on the outside, New Rochelle seems to have weathered the storm with few major scars. The most apparent cuts have affected our daily lives, though; despite our protests, each year has brought fewer and fewer programs within the school system. But New Rochelle has not suffered as many of the ills that surrounding, more urban areas have faced.

In many respects, we come to the start of a cycle of trends within society. The middle class, post-war prosperity of the fifties and early sixties gave way under social turmoil to the consciousness of the seventies. We seem to have returned to the complacency of the twenty years ago. There are exceptions, but we seem content to sit back and watch things roll by as long as we are comfortable. One can say that "Prosperity is around the corner," and sit and wait for it to arrive. But the issues that have confronted us are imminent and ominous. They demand attention.

Michael Slater

Thanks For The Memories!

For as long as we can remember, high school seemed to be synonymous with freedom, independence, and maturity. For some of us, this ideal was developed as we watched our older sisters and brothers ascend the education ladder; we were perhaps in second or third grade at the time and we longed for the day when we, too, might be allowed to stay up past 9:00 pm in order to absorb mysterious information from textbooks which emitted the pleasant odor of newness.

Armed with our schedules and a green student handbook which we innocently thought would hold the secrets to the world of false admits, dismissals, and ways to sneak past the librarian without an ID Card, we ventured down each hall, wishing luck to our friends as they disappeared one by one into classrooms. Somehow we felt insignificant among the sea of juniors and seniors. As we invaded the main stairwell after each period, we began to assimilate into the lines for bus tokens and program changes, and we did so willingly and eagerly.

Next came junior year, and with it more responsibilities and work. We adapted words and phrases such as "SATS" and "transcript" into our working vocabularies. Everything we did was for the benefit of our official records, and we learned to regard sleep as a luxury. Mail would start to arrive in hordes from universities in states we never really believed existed. It was indeed a hectic, bustling year, but one which was remembered fondly.

Then came our Senior Year. For the first time in our lives, we could not be sure where the next year would find us. Most of us yearned for a break from immense piles of work and from our frazzled nerves.

Somehow along the way we got through it, and we even had fun enduring it together. Now, as we prepare to leave NRHS and take our final stroll across the lakes, we are grateful for the values we developed here. We leave our comfortable nest of security to become once again the naive newcomers, whether it be in the world of college or that of business. We have been well prepared for this entrance, however, and we will take with us wherever we go the knowledge, both intellectual and emotional, which we received here. So, we bid a fond farewell to NRHS with one final thought — "Thanks for the memories!"

You Survived The Essay!

The preliminary application seemed harmless enough. You just had to neatly type or print your name, address, telephone number, official school name. It was easy. It didn't take, well, you know . . . brains.

That's what they meant you to think. "They" — those nameless beings (we're not sure if they are human or not) who wile away the hours producing college essay questions. "They" moonlight too, rumor has it, churning out SAT analogies and driver's ed. tests. "They" skillfully floored you, huh, when, happily pecking away at those typewriter keys, you careened into THE ESSAY: "Tell us something about yourself that we do not already know that you would like us to know."

Panic struck — remember? The careful wording left you few options. Every noteworthy event of the last seventeen years had just been condensed to fit into an oddly proportioned 7½ by 8½ rectangle of application. You were a smart kid, and quickly became aware of your dilemma. If everything good about you had already been tactfully (or not so tactfully) noted, all that remained unknown about you were your less desirable traits.

They certainly didn't know that you snored. Or that you derived great pleasure from beating your little brother. And, if you were bright enough, they never would find out. See, most of us dealt with the afore-mentioned query in unique but effective ways. Some of us embellished. And some of us lied. But, if you are reading this today, it means that you survived THE ESSAY. Have a nice life. You earned it.

— Jeanmarie Kraemer

WESTCHESTER'S #1 APPLE COMPUTER DEALER

Come see Macintosh, the computer for the rest of us.

Come in for a hands-on demonstration of the world's newest computer!

Of the 235 million people living in America, only a fraction know how to use a computer.

Which is why Apple invented Macintosh™. A personal computer so powerful, it's incredibly simple to use.

Because you control everything just by pointing a palm-sized controller called a "mouse." Whether you're working with numbers, words or pictures.

If you know how to point, you already know how to use Macintosh.

Our professional sales staff will answer all your questions and, of course, provide service and support.

To Bobby,
Good Luck!
I'm going to miss you and your baby game.
One day you may grow out of shooting ducks and sticking spaghetti but hopefully not soon.
I don't plan to stop.
Your Pal

Dear Bobby,
It was really great meeting you this year. I know we will keep in touch. Good luck with everything you do.

Bob,
You are a really nice guy. I wish you the best of luck in the future. Believe it or not, we surpassed Mr McLain and Mrs Forte thank god.
Have a great summer.
Love
Amy.

Dear Bobby,
Is this neat enough?
I'm really going to miss you next year. No more computers, no more Hubbscher, no more C&P. I want you to know, and I'm serious now, that if I hadn't had said yes to Nick, I would have loved to go to the prom with you. Even if you were only joking, we could have had a great time. You really are a dell and I will miss you.
Give me a call and well get >

 Don't forget eat this summer when you go to college because of some serious parties. Good luck
 Chuck

Dear Bobby,
 I wish the very best of luck for the future. You're a nice guy & a good friend. Be good when you go to college. Don't forget all the good times we had - hanging out at Cawel & P!
 I'll miss ya! Be a good kid. Love

Dear Bob,
Well, I cannot believe this year is already over. It feels like yesterday I met you at the App and you asked to park in my driveway. I am really glad that I have gotten to know you, and I hope graduation doesn't mean I won't get to see you. After all, I am gonna miss the notes + letters. They made me laugh + well, Take care of yourself + Keep in Touch even though you're out of work + school stop by + visit. I won't have anyone to go in the snow + get carts + drink beers. You know where I live so come by Good Luck at Athaca
